

125 Allergens

Allergy Testing

Food & Environmental

WWW.VDILAB.COM

Learn More

Allergy Testing

Allergies can play a role in the symptoms of your patients concurrently to other diseases. In order to obtain a complete look at what is driving a patient's signs, a more integrated approach to diagnostics and screening is required. But to do that, testing needs to be affordable and accessible.

VDI's Allergy Panel require a very low volume serum sample, making allergy testing an option even to the smallest pets, or to patients who need other bloodwork from the same collection.

The Allergy Panel is designed so they can be easily added to other bloodwork without a dedicated draw, as well as affordable to the client. Being able to include allergy testing more routinely becomes a true value-add for your practice, your clients, and your patients.

True Allergies - not sensitivities

Although the word "allergy" is colloquially used to describe any reaction to a foreign substance, it's not wholly accurate. VDI Allergy Panel tests for true allergies - the IgE antibody response - across a range of food, plants, molds, inhalants, and other common sources.

About the Allergy Panel

Allergy PANEL
Test Code: 753
Total Allergens	125
Allergens by type	Food: 72 Environment: 50 Other: 3
Antibody Type	IgE
Volume	0.3mL serum

The VDI Advantage

- ✓ Minimal sample volume (as little as 0.1 mL)
- ✓ Low cost, affordable testing
- ✓ Easily combined with other VDI services
- ✓ True Allergy Testing (IgE)

Call Us
805-577-6742

The Right Tests for the Right Decisions®

VDI is dedicated to providing a range of screening and diagnostic tests to help in an integrated workup of your patients. Could allergies be the cause, or contributing to, your patient's signs?

About Us

VDI is a leading veterinary blood diagnostics provider advancing the importance of specialty wellness and acute care testing in companion animals. With our integrated approach to testing we are providing veterinarians and their clients with complete solutions to identify and correct issues and improve animal health.

We aim to help veterinarians offer a tests package that gives them actionable information to help any cat or dog that comes in, and to maximize their time and resources.

Our Services

- Cancer Diagnostic Blood Tests
- GI Disease - differential blood testing
- Wellness Testing, including cancer screening
- Nutritional Testing for both healthy and acute care patients
- Joint Disease testing (OA, DJD, etc)
- Mineral and Toxic Metal Fur Analysis
- Allergy Testing

Thorough Results

VDI reports are detailed and thorough, giving you more than just numbers on a page

Affordable Testing

Allergy testing shouldn't be an expensive add-on, it should be an affordable value-add.

Integrated Solutions

Multiple diseases may be present at the same time. Create an integrated testing solution for your workups.

